Dear Jo Ann and John,

We can't thank you enough for all that you did for our wedding to make it as beautiful, special, and memorable as it was. So many guests approached us at the reception and told us in the days following that it was the best and most fun wedding they had ever attended. We replied that we owed it all to you.

Selecting you as our wedding coordinators was the best decision we made regarding the wedding. I was away at school in Austin and then Iowa, Victor was busy teaching and writing grants, so it would have been virtually impossible and far too stressful for us to plan our wedding without your help. You stayed in contact with us, replied to messages and emails promptly, and utilized our time when I was in town to the utmost efficiency.

Your relationship with the vendors proved invaluable. Had we planned the wedding on our own, we would never have known about the vendors you recommended, and we would have ended up spending much more money. Instead, we saved money, thanks to you, and received excellent quality and service from each and every one of our vendors. You listened to us regarding our vision and tastes, and you were able to select vendors who fit the bill and fell within our budget. We trusted your judgment and couldn't have been happier with the results!

There were several things that created substantial complications to our wedding, but you handled them so that we didn't have to worry about a thing. When we discovered the problems that Super Bowl weekend was causing for our original wedding date, you contacted the vendors and moved up the date. You were able to accommodate our desire to have two ceremonies and to work with both officiants. You knew exactly where the members of the wedding party should be positioned for the Jewish ceremony and were sensitive to the needs of Victor's father with his oxygen. You settled our issues with the dance floor (or lack thereof) and were able to get us sizable discounts. And the dress! The disaster with the dress alone was worth every penny of your fee! I honestly don't know what I would have done without your help—I would most likely have not had a wedding dress. Your relationship with the staff of Weddings by Debbie—especially A. J.—

helped save the dress. A. J. performed a miracle in cleaning all of the mold, rust, and filth that had saturated the dress and brought it back to its pristine condition. Even if she had not been able to clean it as well as she had, you were prepared to take me to Weddings by Debbie and have me fitted for the exact same dress. In short, you did all the worrying so that we wouldn't have to.

People have asked us, "Was it worth it hiring a wedding coordinator?" We answer without hesitation, "YES!" It is thanks to you that we have so many incredibly beautiful memories of our wedding day—the lovely and eloquent ceremonies, the delicious food, the equally delicious and exquisite cake, the elegant flowers and décor, the infectious music, and so much more. We—along with our families—are infinitely grateful to you for making our wedding day perfect.

Yours truly,
